

Privacy Policy

Fan Out Co. Ltd's privacy and security measures are designed with you in mind, so any personal information that you provide to Fan Out is used for the purpose of personalizing and enhancing your web experience with Fan Out, and for no other purpose. Fan Out's specific privacy policies are outlined below.

The Information We Collect.

There are three ways that Fan Out obtains information from you: (1) via registration on Fan Out's website; (2) from an on-line purchase; or (3) from warranty cards that you fill out and send to Fan Out after a purchase.

Use of Information

The information that is obtained when registering online is so that you may occasionally receive e-mails which will provide you with the information on Fan Out products and related events.

The information that we ask for at the time of purchase is used to complete your order and to confirm the address where the product is to be shipped. Fan Out may opt to send a follow up e-mail confirming your order and to notify you of the ship date.

Information taken from a warranty card or claim is used to assist us in providing you with better service and enhancing your experience with us.

Fan Out does not otherwise use your information in any way and will never share or sell your e-mail and or personal information to other companies. No information is collected about you unless you choose to register, make an online purchase, or send in a warranty card or claim. "Cookies" (small files of text utilized by your web browser software which is stored on your computer when you visit certain websites) are used by Fan Out only to better allow you to fully use our website efficiently.

E-Mail

Fan Out will only send you e-mails if you ask to be informed about our products or events. You may choose to unsubscribe at any time. Fan Out may choose to send you a confirmation e-mail on your purchase and a shipping date, or to answer any inquires you make. All emails will provide you with information on how to unsubscribe from our newsletter(s)
